Dear Fellow Members of the 34th Bomb Group Association and Friends:

Once again it is time for the newsletter but before we tell about the trip back to Mendlesham and the dedication of our Memorial, there are a few things we must say.

Time for the reunion, Oct 13th thru Oct 16th, is drawing near and I have just received a partial list of those who have registered for the reunion. A lot of things have been planned for the reunion and we would like for as many of you, who are coming to preregister for we do receive part of the registration fee for having our reunion with the 8th AF. Read your brochure carefully and come to the reunion.

The Hospitality Room will be opened at 1:00 on Thursday, so come on in to it when you have gotten your hotel room. There will be an election of Officers at our business meeting, which will be in the Hospitality Room after the NASA Tour on Friday afternoon. Quite a bit of business to be brought up. Hospitality Room will be in the Hyatt Regency

As you know we will have a 34th B.G. banquet on Friday evening. Roy Tavasti, 7th Sqd C.O. will be the speaker I am sure his talk will be very interesting.

There will be quite a few new faces at the reunion this year, those who have never attended before. Lets make the 34th B.G. NUMBER ONE AGAIN.

Remember what I said about the liquid refreshments, be discreet with it but if you want to, a bottle would be appreciated for the Hospitality Room.

I made a few mistakes in the photos in the last newsletter. I identified some of the men wrong Just a mistake not done knowingly. I identified two of the 3 men in one picture as Wm Hatley and Clyde Sawyer. This identification was given to me. I am sorry about this and the one who sent me the picture has asked me to correct it. Can any one identify those 3 men in the picture? There was another, which my attention was called to. I identified the picture of Roy Tavasti with Ira Coles with question marks. I was wrong for it was Wm Cole of the 7th Sqd Engineering instead of Ira Coles. Ones memory grows dim after 38 years. Now am I forgiven? You 7th Sqd men do not forget so easily.

Thanks to all of you who have sent in your membership fee, even tho some were late. There is still alot of you, who have not done so. If you want you Ass'n to be an up and coming organization, then you must pay your dues. You can still send in your dues, now as it is late why not send in your '84 dues at the same time.

Dana Schrupp has the Memorial Plate for the Memorial at the AF Academy and should be installed on the Memorial Wall soon. Dedication date not known as yet.

A reunion of the 34th B.G. alone is being planned for '84 and Gerry Pine will report on it at the business meeting of the 34th in Houston. We need a lot of help planning it. Will you come to an early meeting next year, if called?

I want you to know, even tho I was on the Tour with the Group to Mendlesham this office was not closed. Hannah did not go with me, she answered quite a few letters while I was gone and between the two of us, we have answered over 100 letters in the month of July. I was answering letters the night of July 5th before we left on the Tour, July 6th. Next time Hannah says she will be going with me.

AMESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

As you know the dedication and consecration of the 34th B.G. Memorial took place at the Mendlesham Air Field on 9th July 1983, at 1100 hours. Services were conducted by Father Fred Brooks. I introduced the various dignitaries and Mr Ron Blake, the Chairman of the British Royal Legion of Mendlesham, who in turn introduced some of the FOTE members and the Ladies of the Legion, who were responsible for placing the wreath and flowers on the Memorial at various times. Mr George Steadman was recognized for his generosity in donating the land, on which the new memorial now stands. Veterans of the 34th, who gave so generously, to make the rebuilding of the Memorial possible, were also thanked.

I would like to recognize Ian Hawkins, a member of FOTE and his wife Mary, who spent much time in purchasing the Memorial Wreath and for making many telephone calls in preparation for the program.

I would also like to recognize Mr Jim Empson of Bayham England who flew the L4 and dropped real rose petals on the memorial after the dedication, and Mr Eddie Edwards who flew the T 6 over the Memorial several times. It was a very impressive sight.

About 45 Veterans from the 34th B.G. and from other B.Gs. attended the dedication as well as many of the people from Mendlesham and Vicinity. This was the first time for many of the 34th B.G. The 34th B.G. Flag was draped over the Memorial and was removed by Gen Greer and myself I then placed the wreath on the Memorial.

Our journey next took us to the Duxford Museum and to the American Cemetery at Cambridge for a Memorial Service by Father Brooks. Ray Summa placed the wreath at the flag for the 34th B.G.

We had very good press coverage, Two articles appeared in the East Anglican Times. A full page in the Boston Globe on July 17th, written by Steve Erlanger, London reporter for the Boston Globe, who spent quite a bit of time with the Group at Ipswich. BBC coverage on July 10 in London and CBS coverage on the Evening News, also an article in the Huntsville Ala Times and another article in a Cal. paper. The 34th B.G. is in the lamplight, let us keep it that way Sorry, so many of you missed the dedication. Hope to see you all in Houston.

MENDLESHAM DEDICATION

Ray Summa: I thought that July 6th would never come but it did arrive and with Gerry Pine we took off for the Indianapolis Airport on the morning of July 6th to start our journey back to Mendlesham, to our old Base and the dedication of our Memorial. At the Airport in Indianapolis we were joined by Paul and Mary Buss of Olney Ill and Bob Baer of Terre Haute Ind all of the 34th B.G. and a few more from other B.Gs. We all boarded the plane for Kennedy International where we were to meet some more of the 34th, who also going on the tour. It was a smooth flight and we arrived on time at Kennedy but had to walk quite a ways to the International Terminal at Kennedy, to make connections with the International Flight going to Heathrow England. Murray and Ruth Fein had a TWA attendant to check all passport and tickets, so there would be no delay in boarding the plane.

The flight across was uneventful. just routine, except there was not too much darkness. It seemed as if the sun had just gone down in the west and there it was in the east again. There is 6 hours difference in the time.

As we approached Heathrow International we were told to go to Shannon Ireland for fuel as there was fog over London and no planes were landing. We were down at Shannon for an hour. We then took off but there was a delay over Heathrow and we were circling in England for two hours before we landed at Heathrow. We were three hours late and those who had flown from Chicago and Boston had beat us in and were waiting to greet us at the Airport.

Our trip thru Customs was a hurried one and no questions were asked, except how long we would be in England. Our Passports were stamped and we were allowed to go to the dock to pick up our luggage. It was all there but one piece belonging to, "Pete" Gray who had it shipped from Norfolk Va. He had not made it and we heard later it was in Athens Greece, waiting on "Pete" to arrive. It finally caught up with "Pete" in London, the day before we were to return home. Not a very good way to travel, is it "Pete"?

You should have seen our bunch when we finally arrived at the Post House Hotel at Ipswich. Tired, thirsty and hot for the temperature was in the 90s and we were already 3 hours late. All most of the people wanted was to clean up and a drink of something cold. The bath was available but the Pubs were closed from 2:30 until 5:00. There was a refrigerator in all the rooms stocked with all kinds of goodies, so we did not go thirsty.

At dinner that night, we renewed old friendships and made new friends, for all who were there had not been at Mendlesham at the same time.

We also spent several hours with Steve Erlanger of the Boston Globe who was to do an article on the 34th B.G. dedication and tour, for the Boston Globe.

Next day being Friday, we toured the countryside around Ipswich. Ipswich had grown, since we had been there 40 years ago. We visited the old 390th B.G. Control Tower, which had been converted into a Museum and contained a lot of Memorabilia, from other B.Gs. including the 34th.

As you know the 390th was formed from Cadres of the 34th B.G. and went overseas many months before the 34th went over. -2-

After the tour of the Ipswich Vicinity, we headed back to the Hotel. Some of our men went to our Old Base at Mendlesham and others into Ipswich. I had asked the Tour Director before the Tour began, if it would be possible for the bus to take our men back to the field at Mendlesham, for a walk thru, after the tour on Friday. He told me no as the buses had to return to their station right after the tour. As it was still hot several went swimming for they had brought their swim suits.

Next day was Sat July 9th and dedication day. We left the Hotel at 9:00 and arrived at the Base, to begin the bus tour. Half way around the perimeter of the Base near the old 4th Sgd Engineering site, several of the men decided to walk back to where the Memorial was located. "Pete" Gray will tell you about this trip in his comments about the tour. Any way we made the trip past the back entrance to the Field and past the road where the 18th Sgd went of a Sat. evening to a Pub for a cool one and to the Church, where dances were held on Saturday nites. Both Pub and Church are still standing. Just waiting for us to return for a visit.

We arrived back at the Memorial and at 11:00 we started the dedication ceremony. I will say nothing about the dedication but will let others tell about it in their comments.

One thing tho, Jack Blackham, presented Mr George Stedman, with a USA Flag, which had flown over the Capitol Building in Washington D.C.

After the ceremony an L 7 piloted by Jim Empson of Bayham, flew over and dropped real roses on the Memorial. This was followed by a flight of #T6, piloted by Mr Eddie Edwards who had rebuilt the plane from parts he had found after we had left. It was now in flyable condition. Both planes were marked with with US Air Force on the underneath of the wings. It was quite a thrill to see those two old planes flying over.

Lunch was to be served at two of Mendlesham Pubs and as hot as it was, the cool drinks and lunch tasted good. You may remember those two pubs. The Kings Head and The Fleece. Brings out a lot of memories, does it not?

After lunch several of our people took a tour of the Mendlesham Church Yard and one of the older houses. Mrs Fred J Flaurrell of Weld House Mendlesham showed her 15th Century home to some of the people of the 34th B.G.

By this time most of the people were tired and were willing to head back to the hotel but not then, for there was a couple of more places I wanted to see and I was going to see one of them if I had to take the keys and stop the bus. It was the old 18th Sgd Orderly or Day Room. It was supposed to have our 18th Sgd emblem still painted on the wall. I was followed off the bus by most of our men and we made our way to an old building and sure enough it was the Day Room of the 18th Sgd. We managed to open a door, for all to go in. By now as it had been used for a turkey processing plant, it smelled to high heaven but we could stand the smell long enough to take picture of the emblem. Yea the Indian Riding the Bomb was still there high on the wall. It brought tears to our eyes and brought back a lot of Memories, to all of us from the 18th sqd. Guess I am getting sentimental in my old age. After our picture taking we carefull locked up the old building and continued our tour.

The next stop was what was called on the map the WAF site but according to Bruce Sothorn, it was the only building left of the 7th Sgd. and it was the old abolition or bath room. We did not stay too long here, for this was a chicken ranch and the smell was terrible. Leaving this site we returned to our Hotel at Ipswich, too hot and tired to do more exploring.

Sat nite was the 34th B.G. banquet with several English Friends attending. Now for some letters from those who were with us on the tour.
Bill and Viv Greer: Real good dedication. At Mendlesham we were able to tour a 15th Century home, thru the courtesy of Mr Fred J Flaurrell. Wonderful press coverage from the CBS Evening News, who filmed our Duxford and Cambridge Tour. Here is a speech I prepared for the dedication.
"The re-located 34th B.G. Memorial was dedicated 9th July 1983. This Memorial honor those of us who fell in Battle during World War II. The men put Country above self and gave us the many freedoms we enjoy."

"This Memorial, this Plaque, these brick are only symbolic. It is our way of trying to express our gratitude and appreciation to those who have gone before. We pray this Memorial will last through the years, to remind those who pass this way of our fervent desire for World Peace, in furtherance of the noble goal for which our beloved comrades in arms gave their lives"

Rose and Eli Baldea: There were more than a few lumps in the throat during our visit to Mendlesham. Wirfield. Just tramping thru the wheat covered field brought back a lot of Memories about the Beautiful Memorial. I feel that had we allowed it to decay and become part of the Field. it would have been as though all those who had fought and died, did so in vain. Is so Wonderful that the local people will place flowers there and always keep it looking nice. It is an eye catching part of the landscape and we should be proud to have all who passes by notice that we really care. The warm welcome and hospitality of the British people made us feel as tho they were waiting for us and went all out, preparing for our visit. We are hoping to go back again. We loved every minute of the trip. ---

Jack and Dottie Blackham: It was a nice ceremony and we were glad to have been a part of it. We were glad it was handled the way it was, not gaudy, but refined and in keeping with the spirit of the Memorial. The flyover by the planes was the topping on the cake.

During the lunch break at the Fleece, I talked to several, who remembered the night of the Intruder, June 7th '44. Who also watched my plane catch fire and saw 3 or 4 bale out. After lunch my wife and daughter walked the streets of Mendlesham and talked to some ladies, who did the waving for several of the men on the Base. Another lady had worked for the Red Cross and passed donuts and coffee to those returning from a mission. She thought we were a good bunch as did all the Mendlesham people, until V.E. Day when the hay stacks were set afire. It was a real nice dedication. ---

Kal and Evelyn Schonthal: We have been calling our trip a "Sentimental Journey" It was a beautiful trip, far better than we expected. We had such a good time. Perhaps out of all the misery, you fellows went thru so many years ago, some good came of it. You all seem to have compassion for one another. Can't say enough about the British people's hospitality, they were great. ---

Bill Kenney: The dedication of our Memorial was very nice but what impressed me most was the people from the area around the Memorial, who were in attendance (As an 18th Sgd mechanic, living in "Tent City", Debenham was the closest town to the back gate) The Hospitality of the people in the "Kings Head" Pub, was warm and the "Heniken's" was cold that and the indoor plumbing was a welcome change from the warm beer and outdoor facilities. The 390th B.G. Control Tower Museum was a bonus. I had never thought the people would go to all the trouble to build a Museum, to the sacrifice of our American Airmen who gave their lives. ---

Wally Felker: I stayed a few days after the others went home or to the Continent, while shopping at Herrods I stopped for lunch at a nearby Pub and got to gabbing to another American couple and their daughters. I told them what I had been doing in England and they said they had seen all about our Tour on the "Telly". They said it was moving and an interesting story. I was most impressed by the turn out of the local Mendlesham people and their interest in us, "their Local Bomb Group."

Frank Jackson: I enjoyed myself very much. It was fun, meeting the people. All were easy to get along with and were a happy bunch. The dedication of the Memorial was most impressive. ---

Randall Martin: It was a great trip. Can you imagine seven days in England, without rain. Here's "Pete" Gray's answer to the question, how was your trip to England? Pretty bad, First TWA lost my luggage, it went to Athens Greece. Second My old girl friend was not waiting for me at Piccadilly, even tho I told her I would be back.

Third, I had to room with a "Damn Yankee"

Fourth, I couldn't understand the English girls accent and they could not understand mine. Even with all this, I still want to go back in 1985. How about it?

Harold and Gen Rutks: The People at Mendlesham were wonderful and they did all in their power to make us feel welcome. The meals in Ipswich were very good --- I would still go again to be with the good bunch.
Hal and Jan Province: It was a most enjoyable trip and we all will remember it for many many years. There were a couple of low points but those will fade. To me the most impressive remembrance will be the intensity and friendliness of the F.O.T.E. The expression of thankfulness to us for helping them defend their homeland was overwhelming. The visit to the Cambridge cemetery. It was warming to see that it was well kept. It still hurts to walk up and down paths, read the names on the wall of remembrance and remember that these were the names of the fellows who ate with you in the Mess hall or rode the same truck to Ipswich or lived in the hut across the way. ---

Gerry Pine: Wonderful. Here is a little poem I wrote about it. Called "Return to Mendlesham".
 Some of the boys from the 34th with their wives all in tow boarded a plane and wouldn't you know? Pointed that Aircraft straight to the sod, that gave them a home, whilst they did toil at the nasty deed, so close at hand, of whipping Adolph and his band. This was top priority and got most of the beans. But that little left over it justly seems, was spent with the folks who shared their land. All joined together in a solid band, helping these Yanks with their foreign ways, vet to and from both night and day,
 Wined and dined this man, they did never forgetting he was yesterday's kid- Now if our luck holds straight and true, and it seems quite certain it's sure to do- We'll band together once more, and all join in for another score-- to dedicate a Memorial of brass and brick to the ones that got stopped in the battle thick-- The words we say are short and few, yes it all appears so little to do-- But, what we say about a fine young man that never returned to Mendlesham--

Clarence Peterman: Had a wonderful time in England The dedication was most impressive. Can't say enough about the F.O.T.E. Group, who helped us out. The only disappointment, was not having more of the "Bambi Crew on the tour.

"JULY, 1983 - THE 34th RETURNS TO MENDELSHAM"

Of the 400 passengers on board the Boeing 747, over 100 were 8th Air Force veterans, and - thanks to Ray Summa - over a third of those were from the 34th Bomb Group.
 For most of them, it was their first trip back to England, since they had left back in 1945!

We left Kennedy Airport in New York about 9 o'clock at night, for what was supposed to be a six hour flight. Instead, due to ground fog at the London airport, we were delayed for a time at Shannon, Ireland. We finally landed in London (Heathrow) about 11 o'clock (7 A.M. New York time) - a pretty weary bunch, since most of us had slept very little that night.

And what a morning it was - not a cloud in the sky, and the temperature in the mid 80's!

We could hardly believe it was England!

Buses were waiting at the airport to take us across London, and up to Ipswich.

But London! - remember how drab and rundown everything was back in '45 - well you wouldn't recognize it today!

All the rubble left from the German air-raids has been removed, and in its place, modern new buildings have gone up!

Even some skyscrapers!
 And everything looks like it has just been painted - in fact, the whole town just sparkles!

And flowers were everywhere!
 Roses - thousands of them - were blooming in every yard and window-box!

It was hard to believe it was the same London!

They still drive on the left-hand side of the road, however - that hadn't changed!

Just outside of London, we stopped at a "Pub" where we had our first encounter with the "new" English money.

Now most of us still remembered how to count the old English money, and we weren't expecting any difficulty.

However, it seems that several years ago, in order to comply with the needs of the computer age, the old method of shillings, half-crowns and "thrupp-nee bits" had been done away with, and a whole new method installed.

It is very easy to understand though - being strictly a decimal system, based on pence.

Unfortunately, though, none of us were quite up to it, so we went back to the old American system, where you hold out a handful of coins, and let them pick out whatever is necessary!

It's less complicated that way - and sometimes you even wind up with more coins after the transaction than you had before!

Remember how you could hardly get enough to eat once you left the base - well that too has changed!

You never saw such an abundance and variety of food!
 Strawberries were at their peak when we got there - the biggest, sweetest strawberries you ever saw - and they cover them with this thick heavy cream that must contain millions of calories!

I ate so many, they were coming out of my ears!

Gawd - were they good!
 Everybody forgot all about the diet they were supposed to be on, and just dived in!

And - this is hard to believe - the English have finally learned how to make coffee!

That's right - and good coffee, too!
 However - I was told that this applies only to the two counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, which were "invaded" and "occupied" by the 8th Air Force during the years of 1942 - '45, and were almost completely Americanized!

In other parts of England - they say it still looks and tastes like MUD!

Saturday, July 9th, was the day we were to return to our old base, and everybody was up bright and early.

After a hearty English breakfast, we boarded the bus for the short ride up to Mendlesham - home of the 34th!

But even before we got there, many of us began to see things that we recognized, even after all those years!

The driver slowed down as we passed what was left of the old monument, located just off the highway at the foot of the old runway.

Hear where the old hospital used to be, we turned off the main highway on to a dirt road that went on through the base.

When we passed the old farmhouse (remember that) about a dozen of us from the old 7th squadron, got off the bus and took a short cut - which we all still remembered - over to where our planes had been parked!

As we came out from among the trees into this open space, there off to one side, was an old dilapidated Quonset hut!

There was no mistaking it - it was the old 7th squadron's Engineering office - still standing, after almost 40 years!

Everybody let out a holler as they ran down to it!

There was no door - it was long since gone - and there was a good size hole in the roof! But after all the years - it was a wonder it was still standing!

The memories came flooding back when we went inside it! It had been half a life-time ago, but we could still see the place where the old aircraft status board had been! And over near the window, where Clark, (Clairborne H. Clark - from Oklahoma) the Engineering clerk had his desk!

Just beyond the Engineering Office, we could see the remains of the huge pile of dirt that had been used to test-fire the guns.
 And right in front of it was the hard-stand - still in good shape - where Bruce Sothorn had parked his plane "Gotta Haver." Just off to the right was where Smitty (Chas. E. Smith) and I parked "Ol' Buddy!"
 Even the metal rods embedded in the concrete - used to tie down the planes in high winds - were still there!
 Across the way was a piece of the old taxi-strip across which Keith Anderson had driven the burning fuel truck - to get it away from the fully loaded planes!
 There was one thing missing though - the sound of the engines!
 And during '44 and '45, there was always the sound of the engines.
 Today - there was only the chirping of a few birds - but if you listened real hard - you could almost hear them again!
 Almost!

After a while, we made our way across the fields and joined the crowd for the dedication of the new monument.
 A new monument was decided on, since the old one was in pretty bad shape - it was erected in 1946. Also, due to the proposed widening of the highway, a new location was chosen.

It seemed that a good part of the population of Mendlesham was on hand for the ceremony.

"Bob" Wright, current President of the 34th B.G. Ass'n, made the opening remarks, followed by "Bill" Creer, former group CO, after which the Reverend Fred Brooks, former Armament Officer of the 391st Squadron, gave the benediction.

A few minutes later, an American airplane from one of the nearby bases, flew over the site and dropped hundreds of rose petals on the assembly!

It was quite an impressive ceremony!

Many of the British people on hand were just children, when the 34th was flying out of Mendlesham.

One of them - now a gray haired gentleman of 54 - showed us some drawings he had made when he was just a lad of 15.

It seems he lived in the farmhouse, just across the highway from the end of the main runway, and each morning, as the planes passed over, straining to gain altitude, he was able to observe and record the artwork painted on the nose of each plane!

In some cases, he even had the serial numbers!
 These drawings drew a lot of attention - everyone was looking for his own plane - and most of them found it!

Also, we met the lady who had served many of us coffee in the Red Cross Club - so many years ago!

And the five ladies who, - since 1949 - had taken turns putting flowers on the memorial!

Think of that - for over 35 years they had performed this service year in and year out - with never a thought of remuneration!

I hope the 34th can find some way to recognize them!

There are just a few of the many stories that were told and retold that morning - after the passage of so many years.

It was quite an experience - for all of us!

We're all a lot older now - and it makes you feel a little sad to return to a place that was so familiar - so long ago.

But - when you stop to think about it - not many people have a chance to go back, and relive a part of their lives, such as we had experienced, on that bit of English soil - so many years before.

For those of you who have not made this trip - by all means start making plans to do so!

You'll never regret it!

In fact - the only thing you'll ever regret about it - is if you don't go back!

At your request, I am going to pass along a few brief thoughts and observations on the trip to England. First the flight over from New York was good and I did appreciate the Captain's decision to wait in Shannon, Ireland instead of circling Heathrow for a lengthy period of time. Also, after a very courteous trip thru customs, the bus trip to Ipswich was a good opener to the English countryside. The accommodations in Ipswich (The Post House) would have been a little more comfortable had not the heat and humidity cooperated to make it hot and sticky. Jason was please with the swimming pool and made more than enough use of it. I personally appreciated the trip around Ipswich with Roger Freeman being the tour guide--especially the old tower at Framlingham and the castle at the village and the Old Norman Church. I don't know if anyone else noticed, but there is a small Post House hotel in Framlingham similar to what one would expect of the bed and board we used to get above the local pub. The help of POPE and the British Royal Legion made it possible for us to get to Mendlesham on the Sunday following the dedication by the highway. . . and later to Cambridge for the service at the cemetery. I really appreciated that since I was able to satisfy and old, old dream of celebrating in St. Mary's Church in Mendlesham and preaching the sermon. Fr. Philip Gray was a great host that Sunday morning. I was concerned that there were some elements we planned for the dedication of the Memorial by the road that I can't remember happening. I hope that all was OK for that. My sickness are delightfully complete of the dedication. . . and the ceremony at Cambridge on Sunday. I had expected a lot more participation than just the 34th at Cambridge. . . but then again, it may have been exactly as planned. Watching pilots and others look for crew member names on the granite wall was almost heartbreaking--so filled with emotion. I really am satisfied that everything went as well as we had expected at the two ceremonies.

I was disappointed in the bus trip around London--St. Paul's was great--but, I had hoped to see the inside of Westminster Abbey. Our bus driver chose just to drive by and take us on a more extended trip around the more commercial areas of London. None-the-less, I have no real complaints. Jason and I went to Canterbury after seeing the Tower of London the first afternoon in London. We were really tired that first night there. Then, of course the trip next day. It was certainly an experience for a 10-year old on his first trip away from parents and home.

The British are surely hospitable people--our friendships renewed at Ipswich, Fr. Philip Gray at Mendlesham, Mr. Stedman and the others who have helped make our memorial possible and of course, Roger Freeman.

Our other week in England was also far greater than our expectations--our trip to Eastleigh and Winchester, and later to Southwell, Newark, Nottingham and Lincoln--and preaching the Sunday Sermon at Radcliffe-on-Trent will never be forgotten. We took in a lot of British History including seeing an original of the Magna Charta at Lincoln Cathedral. Fr. Jim Foxcroft, a priest-friend in Southwell showed us lots of things we might not have seen without him. We saw a show in Sherwood Forest, after they had saved the great oak tree that is in the legend of Robin Hood. There was sword fights, jousting on horseback and ancient dances. We have some good slides of this affair. Jason enjoyed the castle at Lincoln with the old prisoners chapel and the high battlements. He wanted to climb to the top of the walls, but I gave up at that point--it's an awful shame to grow old and lack the enthusiasm of a 10-year old.

I guess I must say that the trip was well worth the time, the effort, the planning and the money. . . and I would go again if a similar offer comes in the future. There are some things I would have liked to have seen a little different, but perhaps I am in the minority on this point. I realized some dreams and visited some places I had known before and still have a fondness for. The British were great hosts no matter where it was. After the tour, I was shown the red-carpet treatment and saw places Jason and I never dreamed we would see. We have over 300 good color-slides of all the events and places we went.

My only real kick was the Medieval Banquet--we never got any meal that night--and we were extremely disappointed in not seeing Buckingham Palace and the Queen's Guard there. There was ample time in our schedule for adding in Buckingham Palace to the tour of London. . . along with missing out on going into Westminster Abbey. I really believe we could have done better on our own with these places of history.

Well enough kudos and pitches. . . let's do it again before we are too old--and let's not let the women get off with staying home next time.

Faithfully yours,

Ray L. Summa

This is all the letters I have received from those who were on the trip to England and the dedication. I have had to leave out some parts and to reduce the writing to get them all in along with the pictures and the list of those we have found. The pictures I have printed is just a few of those sent to me and of my own. I will be sending those borrowed ones back just as soon as the newsletter is out.

I want to thank all who went on the tour to England and those men from FOTE, who helped while we were there. Roger Freeman especially for his narration on the bus Friday when we toured the country around Ipswich and the 390 B.G. Muesem. Ian Hawkins and Mary for their help with the wreaths and other things. Allen Garrett, who help at the 390th Museum, Jim Empson, who flew the L 7 and dropped ROSE PETALS over the Memorial. Eddie Edwards who flew his A 6 over the Memorial several times. Ron Blake of the Royal British Legion and Mrs Tipp Godfree and Mrs Mary Clemments of Mendlesham, who had placed flowers on the old Memorial all these years and MR and MRS GEORGE STEADMAN. , for letting us place the 34th B.G. Memorial on their land. I know there are some more of those from Mendlesham, whom we owe a vote of thanks to but I do not have all the names at the present time.

We owe Randall Martin a vote of thanks for the work he did with the Boston Globe reporter and the press coverage. Also he hastaken it on himself to mail out the newsreleases to all who went on the tour. Thanks Randall, have a good time at your "Ol BUDDY" Crew, Reunion in MI. We will miss you at the Houston reunion. I do not know what "Pete" Gray the "SOUTHERN GENTLEMAN MAN" will do with out the guiding light of a "DAMN YANKEE". We will try to take care of him

Randall, we wish to convey our Condolences to you in the death of your mother, which happened after you returned from the tour.

Just received word that Olive DiNenno, wife of Al DiNenno has been ill. She would enjoy hearing from those who would care to send her a card.

Al DiNenno says he still has a few 34th B.G. caps, like I wore on the tour, for sale. The cost is $6.00, which includes packaging and shipping. Send order to Al DiNenno 411 Church Rd. King of Prussia Pa. 19406

I will be gone from Aug 25 until Sept 3. I will also leave for the reunion in Tx. the last of Sept until after the reunion.

Now I will leave you with this thought THE MAN WHO ROWS THE BOAT GENERALLY DOESN'T HAVE TIME TO ROCK IT.

FLYING TRIBUTE AS VETERAN PILOTS RETURN

● Former American airmen around the memorial which was dedicated

ROSE petals were dropped on veterans of the 34th American Bomb Group as a new memorial was dedicated on Saturday at the wartime Mendlesham airfield to those who didn't return from the 170 missions flown from the base.

The new memorial replaces one dedicated in 1949 but which has now been taken down because of its condition.

Mr. Jim Empson, of Ipswich, dropped the petals from his Piper Cub aircraft, which he flew over the new memorial shortly after its dedication.

Piper Cubs were used by the Americans for artillery spotting and Mr. Empson said, "I thought it would be an appropriate tribute to those who lost their lives."

Mr. Empson was followed by an Ipswich man, Mr. Eddie Edwards, who paid his tribute by flying over the memorial several times in his AT6 Harvard aircraft.

After the dedication, Mr.

Jack Blackham, a flight engineer on Liberators at Mendlesham during the war, presented Mr. and Mrs. George Stedman, of Stonham, with an American national flag.

Mr. Stedman is a trustee of the memorial and gave the land on which the new one has been built.

About 40 veterans of the 34th Bomb Group, which was part of the 8th Air Force, travelled from all parts of America to revive memories of their war-time days in East Anglia.

They were joined by parish council chairman Mr. Ken Abbott and Mr. Arthur Braybrooke, an RAF pilot during the war who escorted the 34th Bomb Group on its missions deep into Germany.

The dedication was conducted by the Very Rev. Frederick Brooks, who served as an armaments officer at Mendlesham.

Former pilot Eli Baldea was returning to his old airfield for the first time since April, 1944.

"I would have gone home after my 25th mission but on our 24th we were shot down over Cologne and I spent the remainder of the war in a prisoner of war camp.

Bomb Group Alumni Want 'Only Memories'

By STEVEN ERLANGER
Boston Globe

MENDELSHAM, England — Bill Jennings was 23 when he came here to pilot a B17 flying fortress with the 34th Bomb Group and win the war against the Germans.

"You know how when you arrive, everyone talks about missions — they were still talking about hitting the oil refinery at Merseburg three months after it happened. So I go into the briefing room for my first mission, and they pull back the curtains and there it is — Merseburg. It scared the hell out of me."

Jennings, who owns a cash register company in Phoenix, Ariz., had come with his wife, Carol, to the rededication of a monument to the valor of the 34th, near the gate of their derelict air field at Mendlesham, near Ipswich. The monument had to be moved, because what was then rural East Anglia has become well-to-do and Tory, and with more cars now per head of household here than anywhere in Western Europe, the road had to be widened.

Nearly 50 men came, some with their wives and children, to attend the ceremony, visit old haunts and swap memories of 39 years ago when they were all in their 20s, "overpaid, oversexed and over here."

Randy Martin was 20 when he came, having enlisted out of high school — tall, mustachioed and 120 pounds. A young-looking 59, he owns a textile company in Ringham, Mass., where he lives. A few years ago, he started trying to track down his flight and ground crews, and his search led him to Ray Summa, a retired Indiana engineer who watches over the memories and the men of the 34th the way Pete Rose studies his baseball statistics.

SUMMA SPENDS most of his time now working without pay for the 34th Bomb Group Association, writing hundreds of letters, putting out newsletters, collecting dues and arranging events like the one here July 9-10. Stealing telephone books and making phone calls wherever he goes, Summa has increased his list of 34th alumni from less than 50 names to more than 1,000 in five years.

He was never interested in the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Martin said. "I didn't go along with their philosophies. But something like this is different. We don't want anything — only memories."

"Memories are what we're after."

Summa said. "If I could unlock some more of those memories. . ."

Bill Jennings went back to his first mission, over Merseburg: "The Germans had it well protected; there was a block of flak about a mile square. I'd see planes go into it and come out all straggly. We were supposed to dive 1,000 feet over the target, but I was so scared I climbed 1,000 feet. . ."

"We lost a lot of men on that mission." Bill Creer remembered, too, remembered the flock of people watching from the roof of the control tower as the pilots straggled back seven to 10 hours after they had taken off before dawn, holes through their wings, tails and fuselages, some of the four engines smoking, or silent. "Everyone would get up there and start looking and counting out loud: 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32. And I knew I'd lost two aircraft, 11 men apiece — 22 men."

IN 1944, 68 percent of the men who went down were killed, 40 percent became POWs. In 1945, before the bombers had fighter escorts, one of every three men who went up in a B17 or a B24 died.

Creer was their 32-year-old commanding officer, a colonel.

"I brought these boys up," he said, "and they didn't always like it." He had all their pictures and greeted them by name when they were lucky enough to return from what one of them described as "10 hours of sheer boredom punctuated by 30 minutes of sheer terror." Asked about those who didn't come back, Creer said: "Well, when you got to know these boys. . . But you don't try to get to know them too well."

He retired as a two-star general, the deputy commandant of the National War College in Washington. In his 70s now, he lives in Las Vegas and owns and sells real estate.

"You know, it's a funny thing," said William (Pete) Gray, Martin's ground-crew chief. "There's no rank in this thing anymore. That guy over there — Bill Creer — he's a two-star general. He's not a general over here with us."

Gray, now 66, retired from the post office and lives in Virginia Beach, Va. After the war, the first time he got back into a plane was when he flew to New York to begin the trip to Mendlesham. "It's been 38 years," he said, driving through Mendlesham village and looking for the old pub. "My father didn't live 38 years. I sure wouldn't have missed this thing for something pretty."

Some of the above names appear on the list of those we have found I have tried to mark those who have died with a D. Some of the address I have for quite a few have have been sent in by friends and relatives. This is the greatest number, I have found since we started. As you can see a lot will be missing in the future. So go thru those old records and try to find the old addresses of your friends and companions. Try to find them. Ship the names and old addresses to me and I will you look for them.

I have just received word that Guy Norton has suffered a stroke and is very ill. His wife said he wanted to come to the reunion in Oct but see no chance now. Will some of you close to Mesquite Tx. call Mrs Norton to see how Guy is doing.

Change Benson Workmans address to 3570 Riverside Airport Rd.
